SEPTEMBER 2021 SUMMARY

Monthly Recap

For the full third quarter, the S&P 500 gained 0.58% climbing to 15.92% year to date. However, the S&P 500 (SPY) dropped -4.65% due to inflation fears and an ongoing Congressional budget impasse. Chinese property giant Evergrande debt issues did impact the global stock market.

The S&P 500 index closed significantly lower after seven straight months with a gain. This drop is the worst one since the COVID-19 drop in March last year.

However, the September negative return is in line with the historical performance of the S&P 500, as you can see in the chart below.

The S&P 500 Dividend Aristocrats Index (NOBL) dropped a bit more than the S&P 500, -5.67% in September and is up 12.77% for the year. The Dividend Aristocrat Index is trailing the S&P 500 now by 315bp year to date.

The tech sector has been the main sector that drove under/overperformance for the Dividend Aristocrats versus the broad market. While the S&P 500 has a 27.9% weight to the tech sector, the weight in the dividend aristocrats index is just 3%.

S&P 500 Sector Contribution Q3 2021

The Dividend Aristocrats Index clearly didn't benefit in the third quarter from its tech underweight and Industrials/Materials overweight. The IT sector contributed most to the S&P 500 Q3 gain, while the Industrials were on the other side of the spectrum.

Historical Performance

The current 10-years annualized return is 15.54% for the Dividend Aristocrats (NOBL) versus 16.63% for the S&P 500.

Historical Performance

Depending on index launch date, all charts below may include back-tested data.

* Data has been re-based at 100

It is good to keep in mind that over a time-period of 30 years and multiple recessions, the dividend aristocrat's strategy has outperformed the S&P 500 by nearly 2% per year.

The current dividend aristocrats yield is 2.28% well above the 1.37% for the S&P 500 index.

Europe

In Europe, major indices followed the weaker trend of the S&P 500. The S&P Europe 350 dropped -2.87% in September and is now up 17.02% for the year.

The European Dividend Aristocrats dropped -4.52% in line with the index and are up 19.10% year-to-date. Clearly outperforming the S&P Europe 350 index this year so far.

Based on the 10 years annualized total returns of the European Dividend Aristocrats with 10.46% versus the S&P Europe 350 with 10.54%, the conclusion is that they are at par.

Below a chart on the European Dividend Aristocrats and the S&P Europe 350 index since 2011.

Several US companies and some dividend aristocrats announce a dividend increase in September. Here is a brief update.

McDonald's (MCD)

Dividend Aristocrat McDonald's increases its dividend by 7%. Investors now receive a quarterly dividend of $1.38 per share (prior dividend of $1.29). The fast-food chain was one of the few companies in the sector not to cut its dividend in 2020. In fact, McDonald's has increased its dividend for 45 years in a row. The current dividend yield is 2.23%.

Microsoft (MSFT)

Microsoft increases its dividend payout by 10.7% to $0.62 per share quarterly dividend. This is already the 19th consecutive year of annual dividend increases for Microsoft. The board of directors also approved a new share repurchase program authorizing up to $60B in share repurchases. The current dividend yield is 0.83%.

Realty Income (O)

The real estate fund Realty Income has increased the dividend by 0.2%, to $ 0.236 per month. It is the third small raise in 2021 by Realty Income, which now offers a 4.3% dividend yield. The ex-dividend date for the share is always the last trading day of the month and is popular amongst income and dividend growth investors. Realty Income is also a dividend aristocrat, and the annual payout growth rate is around 3.5%.

Texas Instruments Incorporated (TXN)

Texas Instruments increased its quarterly dividend by 12.7% to $1.15 per share in 2021. This dividend hike marks the 18th consecutive year of dividend increases in a row. The current dividend is excellent for an IT company with 2.35%.

W.P. Carey (WPC)

W. P. Carey has raised its quarterly dividend by 0.2 percent to $1.052 per share quarterly dividend from the prior dividend of $1.050. The current dividend yield is 5.53%. W.P. Carey is a dividend achiever, which has managed to increase dividends for 23 years in a row.

JPMorgan Chase & Co (JPM)

JPMorgan Chase & Co will raise its quarterly dividend by 11.1 percent from $0.90 to $1.00 per share in October 2021. This is marking the 11th consecutive dividend increase for JPM and the current dividend yield is 2.4%.

INTERNATIONAL DIVIDEND PORTFOLIO

Our International Dividend Portfolio lost -5.89% in US$ and -3.53% in euros in September. Year-to-date the performance is now 17.73% in euros for this Dividend Portfolio.

After the exceptional streak of seven straight monthly gains, with an average of 2.73%, September hit our portfolio hard. Next to September, only the monthly return in January was as well negative this year.

Since its inception in 2009, the portfolio has returned 378% in US$ and 475% in euros, excluding reinvesting dividends.

Last month's performance dashboard shows a negative month for all most all holdings. Only Mc Donald's and Chevron ended the month September on a positive note.

Year-to-date, 13 stocks are showing a positive price return, which is excluding dividends received. Unilever and PPG industries are the only two stocks showing a negative YTD performance.

About

The International Dividend Portfolio objective is to generate dividend income every month, based on international dividend growth stocks, and over the long-term preserve and grow the invested capital. The total return is expected to follow the MSCI World index and a dividend growth rate between 4%-9%.

Holdings are rarely sold as long as dividend pay-outs are not cut and managed with a “buy-and-hold investor” mind-set. The International Dividend Portfolio contains mainly US and European stocks, so mature markets, but the related companies will often have exposure to emerging markets as well.

Getting started

We created the International Dividend Portfolio, so customers can follow a selection of international dividend stocks. Some investors could mirror the portfolio holding for holding, but others use the list to generate investment ideas and make sense of trends and risk/returns in their own portfolios.

If you decide to mirror the portfolio, our recommendation would be to invest equally across all holdings. This provides diversification between stocks, sectors, and currencies. Preferably the value of one individual stock is always below 5%-8%. Some holdings may appear undervalued and some overvalued, so we provide some guidelines/rules when to buy or not to buy (see section “Timing”). Please take into account that there is currency risk and a potential dividend tax (withholding tax) for certain (US)-investors.

Performance & Dividend receivable

In 2009 the virtual International Dividend Model Portfolio started with €100,000 or $ 140,000, 10 US dividend stocks, and 5 European dividend stocks. The holdings value grew by 15.5% annually year (CAGR) in euros and 13.2% in dollars, as you can see in the table below. Due to currency fluctuation, the European investor benefited more from the dollar holdings.

	Portfolio Value (€)	Portfolio Value ($)
Start 2009	€ 100,000	$ 140,000
End 2017	€ 378,350	$ 454,852
End 2018	€ 385,708	$ 441,867
End 2019	€ 487,797	$ 547,162
End 2020	€ 489,242	$ 600,300

Please note that re-investing the dividends received would result in a higher performance. (the power of dividends and compounding)

Dividend – Payment Schedule

One of the objectives of our dividend portfolio is to receive a dividend every month, below is an overview of the month in which the shares normally go ex-dividend. The diagram gives you more details on the ex-dividend months per stock. For example, Realty Income is a monthly dividend payer, while all US stocks are paying quarterly. L'Oreal (France) and Roche (Switzerland) pay annually.

Dividend Growth

Another objective of our dividend portfolio is dividend growth. The aim is a dividend growth rate between 4%-9%. Dividend growth stocks have been among the best long-term performers in the market, when payout ratio and high yield are monitored.

The average dividend growth rate for all holdings is 6.6%. Here are the current figures for our international dividend portfolio.

Timing (avoid, hold, buy)

This portfolio has been compiled for longer-term investments for a minimum of 5 years and preferably 10 years or longer investment horizon. The signal-list (see next page) is based on several (trend-following) rules, as detailed below:

- Buy, if the trend is upward and the 200-day moving average (MA-200) is lower than the current rate (intersection).
- Accumulate, add additional stocks if the price is above the MA-200 and the performance of the past month was negative.
- Hold, Hold (All-Time High), when the trend is up but not a buy signal.
- Do not buy/avoid, if the current trend is downwards and the current price is below the MA-200.
- Neutral, movement around MA-200, no clear trend

Furthermore, there are several fundamental factors that may cause a share to be replaced. Such as, for example, a substantial reduction in dividend payments.

Below are signals per stock per 9/30/2021. Changes compared to last month are in bold:

About

Preserve capital and deliver a safe dividend yield above the market's average is the main objective of our Retirement Dividend Portfolio. Dividend growth is expected to be moderate, and the portfolio should keep up with the broader market over time. The composition of this conservative portfolio for retirees is constructed based on the following principles:

- Diversification in several sectors and minimum exposure to 20 stocks
- Average dividend yield 2.5% – 4.5%
- Dividend growth rate 4%+
- Dividend score above 60
- Average loss ratio 1.8-2.5 (see defensive aristocrats)

Holdings are rarely sold and managed with a “buy-and-hold investor” mind-set. The aim is to buy and hold positions for at least 3-5 years. If the fundamentals of the company structurally change or stock valuation reaches excessive levels, a holding could be sold. The portfolio is expected to underperform in bull markets and outperform in bear markets due to its defensive nature.

Getting started

We created the Retirement Dividend Portfolio, so customers can follow a selection of “conservative” dividend stocks. Some investors could mirror the portfolio holding for holding, but others use the list to generate investment ideas and make sense of trends and risk/returns in their own portfolios.

If you decide to mirror the portfolio, our recommendation would be to invest equally across all holdings. This provides diversification between stocks, sectors. Preferably the value of one individual stock is always below 5%-8%. Some holdings may appear undervalued and some overvalued, so we provide some guidelines/rules on when to buy or not to buy. Please take into account that there is currency risk if you are a non-us investor.

DEFENSIVE ARISTOCRATS

Performance Update

The Defensive Dividend Aristocrats lost a massive 7.43% in September, and the total return is now 2.34% in 2021. A.O. Smith (AOS) and Hormel Foods (HRL) suffered a significant drop in September.

This means that the Defensive Dividend Aristocrats underperformed the US dividend aristocrats index significantly this year. The table below lists the monthly performance.

About

The Defensive Dividend Aristocrats' objective is to outperform the Dividend Aristocrats over any five-year rolling time horizon, especially in bear markets.

The maximum draw-down (mdd) should be lower for the defensive stocks.

The idea behind the Defensive Dividend Aristocrats is to invest in 10 Dividend Aristocrats that are selected based on price-return and risk-ratios at year-end. Combined with the dividend growth characteristics of all Aristocrats, this should result in a comfortable set of companies for a long-term dividend portfolio.

The Defensive Aristocrats are selected on performance-based criteria:

- Geometric Annual performance of the last 10 years (GeoAP10)
- Win-ratio, the chance of a positive monthly performance

- Loss-ratio, the chance of a monthly loss multiplied by the weighted average loss

Optimizing risk-return

The diagram below shows that the "blue" stock should be preferred over the "yellow" since the performance (Geometric Annual performance of the last 10 years) is higher and the risk (Loss-ratio) is lower.

The 10 Dividend Aristocrats with the best performance-risk characteristics and in an up-trend are selected at every year-end for the holding period of a year, to be part of the defensive dividend aristocrats. The lower the loss-ratio the better, close to 1.0 is optimal.

Getting started

We created the Defensive Dividend Aristocrats so customers can follow a selection of dividend aristocrats. Some investors could mirror the portfolio holding for holding, but others use the list to generate investment ideas and make sense of trends in their own portfolios.

If you decide to mirror the portfolio, our recommendation would be to invest equally across all holdings. One should always be aware that 10 stocks only is probably not sufficient with respect to diversification. Some holdings may appear undervalued and some overvalued since the 10 dividend stocks are selected once per year.

The 10 Best Dividend Aristocrats for October based on future return

The ranking of the top 10 Dividend Aristocrats to buy today, is based on expected annual returns through 2026, so their 5 years future total returns. These 10 stocks represent attractive long-term buys for dividend growth investors.

To estimate the future total return the following values are added together:

- Estimated EPS growth next 5 years, as an indicator for the average dividend growth
- Average dividend yield, assuming
- Extra return due to over/undervaluation

The table below lists the top-10 Dividend Aristocrats with the highest estimated future total return for the next 5 years (CAGR), the EPS estimate for the next 5 years, and the extra positive or negative return due to over/undervaluation. The dividend score is also a factor that should be considered when evaluating those dividend stocks.

Dividend Aristocrats by loss-ratio

The Defensive Dividend Aristocrats' objective is to outperform the Dividend Aristocrats over any five-year rolling time horizon, especially in bear markets. The maximum draw-down (mdd) should be lower, so less volatility than the broader market. The main is to show that next to dividend growth, price-return and risk ratios are also important.

The idea of the Defensive Dividend Aristocrats is to invest in ten Dividend Aristocrats that are selected based on price-return and risk-ratios at year-end. Combined with the dividend growth characteristics of all Aristocrats, this should result in a comfortable set of companies for a long-term dividend portfolio.

The Defensive Aristocrats are selected on performance-based criteria:

Geometric Annual performance of the last 10 years (GeoAP10)

Win-ratio, the chance of a positive monthly performance

Loss-ratio, the chance of a monthly loss multiplied by the weighted average loss

Dividend Kings estimated future total return

The estimated future total return data is available for the dividend kings and dividend aristocrats in our database. The estimated EPS growth for the next 5 years is also presented. Estimating the expected 5 years future total returns are based on two main components for dividend growth stocks:

- Dividend yield
- Change in share price

The change in a stock (share) often comes from dividend growth which is mainly driven by earnings per share growth and the difference between the share price and the fair value. The expected price-to-earnings ratio over the next 5 years or the average dividend yield over the last 5 years is often used to estimate the change in the share price. The assumption made is that the share price will return over time to this average value.

To estimate the future total return the following values are added together:

- Estimated EPS growth next 5 years, as an indicator for the average dividend growth
- Average dividend yield, assuming
- Extra return due to over/undervaluation

The table below lists the top-10 Dividend Kings with the highest estimated future total return for the next 5 years (CAGR), the EPS estimate for the next 5 years and the extra positive or negative return due to over/undervaluation.
